Wellness and Balance

Home organization isn't always about "Big" projects like redesigning a room, cleaning out 'all' the drawers or going through 'all' your clothes. Sometimes, it's the little choices that are most impactful.

Summer is sunshine

Summer.....the time we want to relax, play, vacation and just simply BE. That's balance and wellness we believe in! Yet, we still want to be in happy spaces - both indoor and out - and things still need to get done. This summer, let's stick with small projects or even be in maintenance mode. You decide.

Our suggestions to stay organized and save time so you can enjoy your summer:

- Take 15 min (1 or 2 nights each week), turn on your favorite tunes and do a quick pickup/clean of the house. Put things in their spot.
- Put a box in the corner of your garage where you can store your “give” items that you find when cleaning. (Clothes that don’t fit, books you no longer need....) Then take the box while out running errands and donate.
- Create a list of what you need to get done and focus on one a week. No need to get overwhelmed...it’s fun to cross things off the list.
- Still want a project? It’s time to conquer all the outdoor space now. Have fun planting, creating a fabulous deck or building a tree fort. Lots of options here!
